

Leadership Networking Forums

"My first exposure to networking was attending a regional meeting of LeadingAge Ohio (when it was still AOPHA). They happened a few times a year, and I was attending as an Intern at Montefiore. Through the years at regional luncheons, I met all of the other member organizations of LeadingAge Ohio in the Northeast Region. It was a chance to share stories and ideas and also see one another's communities, in addition to hearing whatever topic was being presented by the staff of the association. In-person networking has not been replaced with any other kinds of technology based gatherings - at least not nearly as effectively. It was also never just the administrator or executive director in those days - it included directors of nursing, assistant administrators and others that both wanted the information being presented and the chance to build a network of their own."
