Amy Honebrink - Counted cross-stitch Dollhouse

My love for counted cross stitch must have come from my mom. She has done many beautiful needle works which are displayed throughout our house. She loved to give her stitchery out as gifts for her grandchildren. I guess I must have inherited this love. I have done and given many cross-stitch samplers for my nephews and niece, and now I am making them for my great nephews and nieces. I really enjoy seeing them come to life as I do the stitching.
